REVOLUTIONARY TIMES

Historical interpreters representing voyageurs, British soldiers, and French-Canadian merchant families are stationed throughout the fort to answer your questions and perform demonstrations. The past and present blur into a fascinating and unmatched experience at Colonial Michilimackinac. Watch smoke billow from cannons, mortars and muskets and help residents prepare food and tend the garden. At one of the longest ongoing archaeological excavations in North America, archaeologists are on site throughout the summer, pulling history from the soil bit by bit.

This is Mackinac

Treasures from the past come to life at this 18th-century fort and fur trading village, reconstructed based on historic maps and more than 60 years of archaeological excavations. As you walk through Colonial Michilimackinac, you are stepping back in time to 1777, as the British prepared to end the American Revolution with a decisive blow. Here, you will see and hear how residents of this fur trading community participated in that campaign while defending their homes from new threats.

Located on the shore of the Straits of Mackinac, Colonial Michilimackinac offers visitors stunning views of the Mackinac Bridge, the straits and the Upper Peninsula from its palisade walls. Guests can also enjoy a shoreline picnic near the Kids' Rendezvous playground or buy unique gifts, books and apparel from the two museum stores.
